The Lindemans Lambic Variety Pack

Lindemans Brewery makes the best-selling Belgian fruit beers in the US. Over the past 40 years, Lindemans first defined the fruit beer category, then built it. And variety packs are the fastest-selling segment in the premium import beer category.

The Lindemans Lambic Variety Pack has one Framboise (raspberry), one Peach, one Cherry and one Apple in perfect 8.45 oz. bottles. They're easy to spot at local stores, with a bold 4-pack basket holder and a full-color carton.

Lambic ales, fermented only by multiple strains of wild, airborne yeast, are rare in the beer world. At Lindemans as well as other lambic producers, the brewers add no yeast at all - crazy! Resulting flavors offer superb, layered, tart, magical complexity and gain perfect balance with the addition of sweet fruit. If you've had these, you know: one taste is the best selling tool we have.

Established in 1822 and still owned by the founding family, Lindemans has earned a global reputation for quality and flavor. The planet's ten lambic breweries are all located in Belgium's Senne River Valley, a region only about 15 by 75 miles in size, near Brussels.
